BBMP verifies documents of teachers, lecturers at its institutions; finds 30% of them do not have basic qualification to continue

BAD EDUCATION

Inefficiency of teachers said to be among reasons why children end up faring poorly in SSLC exams

The Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) has been spending crores of rupees for providing education for children from middle and lower-middle class families at its 163 nursery, primary, high schools, PU, and degree colleges in the city. However, the percentage of students passing in the SSLC and PU examinations is not up to the mark.

According to reliable sources, the BBMP has been allocating crores of rupees for the maintenance of schools and colleges and paying salaries to hundreds of teachers and lecturers. The BBMP Budget has allocated Rs 88 crore for education during the year 2023-24. However, the percentage of students passing in the SSLC examinations has been disappointing all these years. There are many reasons for the poor results. The inefficiency of teachers is attributed as the main cause for students scoring low marks.

To improve the quality of education and efficiency of teachers, the BBMP Education Department has taken measures to verify the educational qualifications of teachers working on a contract basis at its schools and colleges.

"We have been verifying the documents of teachers and lecturers working at our schools and colleges.

Stabbing incident shows how gig workers are exposed to dangers and employers bear no responsibility

A 29-year-old food delivery agent is currently undergoing treatment after being stabbed by three unidentified persons who had placed an order and refused to pay the due amount. This incident has once again brought the lack of safety in the working conditions of gig workers into the spotlight.

The victim has been identified as Noyon Mia, a resident of Pragathi Nagar, who hails from Assam. On Friday at 10 pm, when Mia delivered the order, the trio who had placed the order, refused to pay for it. When he tried to take the food away from them, one of them pulled out a knife and stabbed him.

Vinay Sarathi, United Food Delivery Partners' Union President, told Bangalore Mirror that despite the issue of safety being raised multiple times with the labour department, there has been no change. "Especially during the lockdown period, when every neighbourhood bore a deserted look, several delivery agents were attacked," he said and added that the firms that employ the workers are least concerned about their safety. "There was an incident in Kengeri when a delivery partner met with an accident and reported it through the application to seek assistance. He was promised help, but another delivery agent was sent, who picked up the parcel from the injured and left the scene. He was also time bound on his slot of deliveries and had to

After cases of children accidentally strangulating themselves with scarves or dupattas while playing come to the fore, doctors suggest some precautionary measures

Health professionals in the city are reporting cases of children being accidentally strangulated while playing with dupattas. The doctors in the city said that young children might become entangled in the fabric, resulting in accidental strangulation. They cautioned it is crucial for parents, caregivers and individuals to be responsible for children's safety.

In one of the incidents, a 10-year-old boy was pretending to be a puppy on straps, holding a synthetic dupatta around his neck that was suspended from the window rail. When the parents saw the child, he was unresponsive. The child was rushed to the hospital where he suffered multiple seizures with altered sensorium.

Dr Nawad Azam, Pediatric Intensive Specialist, Rainbow Children's Hospital, Hebbal, said, "The child was given antiseizure medications and was intubated followed by bag and tube ventilation due to prolonged seizures and abnormal breathing. He was then shifted to PICU for intensive care and further evaluation and management. He required 36 hours of ventilator support, antiseizure medication, and neurological monitoring."

> – Dr Nawad Azam, Rainbow Children's Hospital, Hebbal

In another case, a 15-year-old girl was playing the Go-Kart sport and accidentally got strangulated with a scarf. The child was unconscious and taken to the Emergency Department.

Dr Sujatha Thyagarajan, Clinical Lead Pediatrics and PICU, Aster RV Hospital JP Nagar, Bengaluru, said, "The tight strangulation caused a block to her breathing pipe transiently leading to accumulation of lung fluid preventing her from oxygenating well. Once the breathing tube was placed, there was pouring lung fluid due to release of this obstruction. She improved in the PICU within two days of neuro-and lung-protective treatment and was discharged home with intact neurological status. "

On the preventive measures, Dr Nawaz added that some studies report 7-8 per cent of deaths due to accidental hanging.

"Prevention is the only assured method of preventing such incidents, and parental awareness is crucial," he said.

Hey teachers, leave them kids alone

We found that around 30 per cent of teachers working at nursery and primary schools are not qualified to continue as teachers as they did not possess either diploma in teaching or Teachers' Eligibility Test (TET) certificates," said BBMP Assistant Commissioner (Education) Venkataraju.

Around 1,000 teachers and lecturers are needed to teach at 163 institutions. As of now, 840 teachers and lecturers are working at these schools and colleges and among them, 110 are on regular rolls and remaining 730 are working on a contract basis.

"Most of the teachers and lecturers are outsourced by agencies. The agencies do not bother to verify the educational qualification at the time of selecting the candidates. Now, we have decided to demand that the prospective or existing teachers give us a demonstration of their work. We will evaluate their efficiency after watching the demo given by them and verification of their education documents," he said. It seems the teachers and lecturers have complained to the BBMP Education Department officials about the poor performance of students in the class tests. A BBMP official on a condition of anonymity said that he was quite disappointed with the poor results in the SSLC examination. "The BBMP has been providing uniforms, shoes, socks, books and food to the students but they are not focusing on education," he said.

Appreciating the BBMP for taking measures to improve the quality of education, Nagasimha G Rao, Director of Child Rights Trust, said the teachers have to improve their skills. "All the teachers and lecturers working at the BBMP schools and colleges must undergo training every year to hone their skills. If teachers and lecturers do not know the technological advances in their field, what will they teach the students?" said Rao.

leave the injured in the same state," Sarathi said. He further noted that while firms claim to have policies of compensation, it involves much red tape prompting the workers to give up on receiving relief. He urged the government to draft a set of measures to protect the rights of gig workers.

"On paper, they (gig companies) say that the worker is independent and not our employee. According to me, they are making use of a grey area in the law. The definition of an employee has been changing over the years. This is something which should have been fixed by legislation – to say that workers in the platform-gigwork economy are also entitled to compensation if something happens to them in the course of their duty," said Alok Prasanna, Co-founder and Team Lead, Vidhi Centre for Legal Policy. He noted that this is a huge problem in the context of women working as beauticians in the gig economy, with reports of harassment constantly springing up. "Companies say they have a policy but when such an incident occurs, how do they address it? The law should make this very clear.

The company must be held responsible as they allocated the job and control much of the work (picking up and delivery) that has been assigned," he said, adding that gig workers are actively employed but are just not being treated as such and are denied legal protections that are due.

Ranoji Rao, a delivery partner with a grocery portal, said that he has not experienced an incident where his safety was on the line, but hoped that if such an event did occur, he would be able to resort to his employer for relief.

It's getting too loud in Koramangala

Koramangala residents complain of loud music being played at midnight from neighbouring club

People in other parts of the city are also complaining about loud music

Despite rules stipulating that clubs and pubs can't play loud music at night, residents of Koramangala complain that they are irritated with loud music being played at midnight from a neighbouring club.

Shalini, who lives in Koramangala near a rooftop pub, says that the music is so loud at around 11pm at night that she can feel the vibrations in her room.

"I come back from work at around 7 pm and when I want to relax or sleep, the loud music starts playing. I used to think that eventually I will get used to it, but I can feel vibrations on my bed. I was talking to my neighbours about filing a police complaint because if you just call the police by using 112, the music will be muted for two days and will go back to their usual level after that," she said.

She claims that some of the residents in the area also went to meet the pub's manager to ensure that they are not disturbed by the music, but the pub refused to comply with their wishes.

Another resident of Koramangala 5th block has the same problem but says that there should be noise regulations for other events as well.

"They play music late at night and now people around the area are used to it, so I don't think there is a major problem. But if you are banning music in clubs because of noise, it should be done for other loudspeakers as well, like temples and mosques. Why are clubs being targeted alone; there should be strict implementation to maintain a certain decibel level," he said.

People in other parts of the city are also complaining about the loud music from clubs. A netizen took to social media to point out that despite several complaints, Mico Layout police are not stopping a popular club from playing loud music. According to the resident, the club plays music till 1 am and people living nearby are extremely disturbed by it.

However, when Bangalore Mirror contacted the police, a senior police official said that they have been receiving complaints for loud music and action has been taken against such clubs.

"We don't let clubs play loud music after 10 pm. We are constantly patrolling the area and penalising people who are violating the rules. If anyone is facing the issue, they should call 112 and the police will immediately reach the spot," said the official.

At 35 degree C, city breaks 5-yr-old temperature record

Bengaluru's scorching heat has broken a five-year-old record of the hottest day in May.

On Tuesday, Bengaluru recorded a maximum of 35 degree Celsius, while the HAL and BIAL recorded 35.4 degree Celsius. Met department officials said that the average temperature in May is usually 33.1 degree Celsius but Tuesday's temperature was a record high temperature since 2018 and this was largely due to clear sky and no rainfall.

If we look at the past data of highest temperatures recorded in the month of May, it was on May 1, 2018 when the city recorded a maximum of 35.2 degree Celsius. In fact, in the last two years, the temperatures have been less than 35 degree Celsius. The previous highs were May 1, 2022 (34.8) and May 10, 2021 (34.4 degree Celsius). The all-time highest temperature for any month was recorded in 2016 when the city recorded 39.2 degree Celsius on April 25, 2016.

However, according to KSNDMC weather data, Kengeri and Ullal recorded 38.5 degree Celsius on Wednesday, while Jayanagar, Neelasandra and Marutiseva Nagar's maximum temperature was 35.7 degree Celsius. Mangammanapalya and Singasandra recorded 1.5 mm of rainfall.

Isolated light/very light rain likely over BBMP area for next 24 hours

The weather forecast for the next 24 hours predict that there could be isolated very light to light rains likely over the BBMP area with maximum and minimum temperatures likely to be around 34- and 23-degree Celsius respectively. Overall, there could be isolated to scattered very light to light rains likely over Malnad and south interior Karnataka districts.

The Met department has said that there could be a four-day delay of onset of the south west monsoon and could not be termed as a long delay. The monsoon was expected in south Andaman in the next three to four days. Contrary to reports, the Met department says that the heat wave was subdued this year.

Businessman victim of 'revenge attack'

A young businessman was stalked and attacked in the city over an alleged old feud.

The victim has been identified as Akhil Hemadri. He was attacked by five people, including the main accused, Ronit and Durga.

They followed his car and attacked him in the middle of the road. Ronit is alleged to have committed fraud over a car business, due to which Akhil had filed a complaint at the Yelahanka police station. Ronit was arrested in connection with the complaint, but was granted bail and released.

While out on bail, he repeatedly threatened Akhil. Later, he, along with four others, followed the victim, stopped his car, and broke the glass. Ronit and the others attacked and threatened to kill the victim. A complaint has been registered at the Kodigehalli police station in this regard. —BMB

Bengaluru gets selected for national 'cycle to work' challenge by Centre

In a thumbs-up for sustainable mobility, Bengaluru has been selected for the national Cycle to Work challenge. A note issued by the Bengaluru Smart City Limited on May 15 read, "The Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs-Smart City Mission has launched the second edition of Cycles for Change. Bengaluru was listed as a lighthouse city under the first phase of the Cycles for Change campaign." Under this campaign, the city has been shortlisted for the cycle2work program as one of the top eight cities with the potential to set an agenda for sustainable mobility. The cycle2work campaign intends to engage deeply with companies to use technology to track, measure, and reward the best companies encouraging employees to cycle to work.

Reacting to this, Bengaluru's Bicycle Mayor, Sathya Sankaran, said, "This is a great initiative. Now, we will onboard interested companies and the smart city nodal officer for creating sustained campaigns, rewards, and cycle-friendly infrastructure works as well." He further stated that this campaign was a focused effort to work with a few companies and their official representatives to increase cycling to work.

Bengaluru Smart City, along with other government bodies, will coordinate the program and institute rewards to the participating companies, along with exploring tactical interventions in the neighbourhood as may be discussed with the cyclists from the companies, Sankaran informed. "We will be checking with company representatives and seeking their support for participation. The program will kick off on June 3, coinciding with World Bicycle Day, with a ride in the morning and felicitation of the top companies," he added.

With many tech companies switching to the Return to Office (RTO) mode, many techies are now using cycles to commute to work. Some of them are even convincing their companies about the advantages of cycling and ensuring that cyclists get additional perks from their organisations in terms of extra facilities. In fact, some of them have even requested their companies to provide a bathroom facility so that they can take a bath and resume work after cycling to the office.

Prodded, companies pave path for cycling to work

BM's report on Aug 14, 2022 spoke of companies bringing forth facilities to aid cyclists

A city-based techie said, "I created a presentation to take the cycle to work initiative at the organisation level and presented it to them. The presentation covers what the program is about, its benefits, the support required from the organisation, and more. Our company has a target to reduce carbon footprint by one per cent year-on-year, and the cycle to work initiative is one of the ways to achieve it, and I did highlight this key point in my presentation." In a week's time, the organisation arranged a dedicated parking space for bicycles and a changing room, they informed. The techie is currently working with the organisation's Employee Engagement team to take the initiative to a larger audience and run it as a campaign.

Sankaran told Bangalore Mirror that the initiative is a first-of-its-kind social platform in the country for bicycling created by Urban Morph in collaboration with Mapunity. "The leaderboard has employees from more than 380 companies cycling to work and has tracked savings of more than 200 tonnes of carbon dioxide emissions from 53 cities across the world so far. It has produced data for government decision-makers to target bicycle infrastructure interventions in Bengaluru, like the creation of the 17km pop-up bicycle lanes on the Outer Ring Road and increasing the allocation of cycle tracks from 175 km to 600 km in the 2020 Comprehensive Mobility plan," he said.

3 bidders up for suburban rail project

Three bidders have expressed interest in supplying rolling stock for the proposed Bengaluru Suburban Rail Project (BSRP). According to sources, Construcciones y Auxiliar de Ferrocarriles (CAF), Bharat Heavy Electricals Limited (BHEL), and Bharat Earth Movers Limited (BEML) have shown interest in supplying coaches/rolling stock. The tender was opened by KRIDE in the presence of the bidders on Tuesday.

"This tender, which was invited on January 25, is a two-stage process. The first stage is a Request for Qualification (RFQ), which requires bidders to submit their expression of interest by fulfilling the eligibility criteria defined in the tender document. The criteria include the technical and financial capacity of the bidder. The second stage is the Request for Proposal (RFP), also known as a financial bid. Only the bidders shortlisted in the first stage (RFQ) will be allowed to participate in this stage. The RFP stage will consist of two packets or two covers where the bidder submits technical documents and a financial (bid) proposal. Based on the financial proposal, the lowest bidder will be awarded the contract to supply and maintain the BSRP trains and provide trained crew," said an official.

The RFQ tender floated by KRIDE was open for bidders to submit their applications until May 15. The documents uploaded by bidders are currently under scrutiny. After a detailed examination and thorough evaluation of the documents, the qualification for the RFP stage will be finalised.

File photo of KRIDE, along with contractor L&T, conducting preliminary work for the city's ambitious Bengaluru Suburban Rail Project near Nagawara

Despite the long delay, officials claim that there is progress in the project. The construction of the corridor-2 line (Mallige line) covering approximately 25.2 km from Benniganahalli to Chikkabanavara is currently underway and being executed first. An official from the Bengaluru Suburban railway said, "We have successfully transitioned from the drawing board to the execution phase. One of the major stumbling blocks, defense land at multiple locations including Banaswadi garrison, Airforce Jalahalli, and CQAE Yeshwantpur, is aligned along this corridor. Air Force authorities on Friday signed an MoU for handing over land at the Airforce Jalahalli location and also granted permission for boundary wall construction at Jalahalli."

Recently, the construction project involving land acquisition, boundary wall construction, and various other preliminary works such as survey works, geo-technical investigation, and ground penetration report (GPR) has been completed. The establishment of the batching plant is underway at three locations, including Jalahalli, Hebbal, and Benniganahalli, with the Jalahalli batching plant expected to commence operations soon. The Environment and Social Impact Assessment (EIA & SIA) study has been completed. The test pile at two locations near Hebbal and Yeshwantpur has been completed, and testing activities are currently in progress and will be conducted in the coming week, said an official.

As of now, railway land of 157 acres for Corridor-2 has also been handed over to KRIDE. "This project also involves the relocation of various Indian Railways buildings and facilities," stated an official. — BMB

Suspense, drama and rumours too

But Congress confident of taking decision on who will be new CM in a day or two

Bangalore Mirror Bureau

TWEETS @BangaloreMirror

It was a day of high drama on Wednesday, even though the suspense over the next Chief Minister continued. The day started with rumours floating that Siddaramaiah had been picked up as the next Chief Minister and that the oath-taking ceremony had been fixed for 3:30 am at Kanteerava Stadium. In fact, social media was abuzz with an invitation letter for the CM's swearing-in ceremony and the oath of secrecy to be sworn in by the Governor. However, as the news spread like wildfire, the AICC in charge of Karnataka, Randeep Surjewala, tried to stop the speculation, stating that no decision had arrived yet and that the speculation had been propelled by the BJP.

CM in a day or two

Surjewala told the media that a decision on the Karnataka chief minister was likely to be made today or tomorrow, and a new cabinet would be in place in the next 48–72 hours. He asserted that Karnataka will have a five-year-long stable government and urged people not to believe in speculation and 'fake news,' which he alleged was being peddled by the BJP. He said that AICC chief Mallikarjun Kharge has been authorised to appoint the leader of the legislature party, and that is why deliberations are underway. "Do not resort to any speculation; whenever a decision is taken by the Congress president, we will be happy to inform you. I am only here to quash multiple rumours and hearsay that are being played on multiple news channels. Please don't believe in it," Surjewala said.

"Stop listening to rumours being planted by the BJP, which is frustrated by the decisive defeat in Karnataka. The Congress is committed to the welfare of each Kannadiga;

Supporters of Siddaramaiah celebrate outside his residence in Bengaluru on Wednesday the Congress is committed to fulfilling its five guarantees, implementing its agenda, and providing a clean, transparent, and responsible government. The Congress president believes in three principles: consensus, unanimity, and unity. Mallikarjun Kharge, who has been authorised by the legislature party, will announce the name of the leader after holding due deliberations," he added.

Hectic parleys

In fact, on Wednesday, the two main chief ministerial aspirants, Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar, met Rahul Gandhi in Delhi separately amid hectic parleys in the Congress to decide on the chief ministerial pick. The meetings came a day after the two held separate meetings with Kharge at his residence and discussed issues regarding the government's formation. Sources said that the stalemate was the result of two leaders sticking to their stand that they could not budge over the question of CM.

Bommai takes dig at Congress

Meanwhile, interim Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai took a dig at the Congress party over the delay in deciding Karnataka Chief Minister. Former CM Basavaraj Bommai said on Wednesday that it shows a lack of unity in the party despite getting a full majority. "The people of Karnataka voted for the Congress party, so it must work to bring development to the state. The delay in deciding the CM despite getting a full majority shows a lack of unity in the party. The Congress party must stop playing politics, select a new CM, and serve the people by forming the government," Bommai said.

Security beefed up

While Siddaramaiah supporters burst crackers, assuming that their leader was chosen as the next head, security was stepped up in Ramanagara, the home district of Karnataka Congress President DK Shivakumar, as a precautionary measure in light of his supporters staging protests at multiple places after some media outlets claimed that he lost the race for the Chief Minister's post to Siddaramaiah. An alert has been sounded in Ramanagara, where police personnel were deployed at important public places and the district Congress office to prevent any untoward incident, official sources said. The police presence was beefed up in particular in Kanakapura, where Shivakumar hails from and got re-elected to the Karnataka Assembly in the May 10 polls.

Warnings given for 'out of turn' remarks

The Congress on Wednesday warned the party leaders to not make any out of turn remarks as it will be treated as "indiscipline" and action will be taken accordingly.

In a tweet, Congress General Secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala, who is also the in-charge of Karnataka, targeting the BJP and media said, "A section of our dear friends of the media have fallen victim to the fake news factory of BJP on formation of the next Congress government in Karnataka."

Reminding the BJP of taking about seven days time for announcing its chief ministerial candidate, Surjewala said, "I hope the same people had questioned Prime Minister Narendra Modi when he took 7 to 10 days in deciding Chief Ministers of Uttar Pradesh, Assam, Goa and many other states. No one then whispered a word about the High Command culture."

He added, "But the same forces and select news outlets have objections to the process of dialogue, discussion, consensus adopted by Mallikarjun Kharge ji, which is in true democratic traditions." He referred to the deliberations going on in the party to choose the next Chief Minister.

He said that he has also advised all Congress leaders to not issue statements on the issue of leadership.

"Any out of turn remarks made from here onwards will be treated as indiscipline and action taken accordingly," he warned. –IANS

Clearing confusion

Congress leader G Parameshwara on Wednesday said that there is no controversy in the selection of the Karnataka Chief Minister even as the party deliberates in the national capital after its emphatic win in the recently held Assembly polls in the southern state.

"Let me clarify that there is no controversy in the selection of the Karnataka CM. A procedure is being followed. The party high command is meeting the CM candidates and it will be finalised today or by tomorrow," G Parameshwara told ANI.

Earlier on Tuesday the Congress leader sprung a surprise by saying that he was ready to take up the responsibility of the Chief Minister if the party high command asked him to do so.

The former Karnataka Deputy CM also had said that a Dalit leader should become the chief minister.

Parameshwara said that it is natural for Dalits to ask for representation in the southern state.

"It's natural for Dalits, voting for Congress, to ask for representation. Everyone in the party high command knows me. If there's a situation where Dr Parameshwara has to be made (CM), then they'll make it. I won't lobby," he added. –IANS

With Sudeep's support

Director Hassan Ramesh is finally set to release the movie Srimantha revolving around farmers' lives. Bollywood actor Sonu Sood has played an important role in the movie that is scheduled for the release on Friday. "I want to tell fans that Namma Kichcha Sudeep has supported the movie. I do not want to reveal whether Sudeep has played a cameo or given a voiceover, but Sudeep's support for this movie is very important. I want movie goers to watch the movie at theaters on Friday to know how he has supported this movie," said Hassan Ramesh.

He said he wanted to bring Sonu Sood to Bengaluru for the promotion of the movie but cancelled it due to the elections. "Now he is busy with a Hindi movie shooting in Himachal Pradesh. I am trying my best to have Sonu in Bengaluru soon," he said.

The director said that some of the actors took up the onus to organise events at all district headquarters in the state to promote this movie. "We have already visited all the district headquarters and received very good feedback on the film from farmers and prominent personalities," the director said, adding that two heroines of the movie are out of station and are likely to be back on Friday.

He said the USP of Srimantha is dialogues in Hassan diction. Kranthi, Vaishnavi Patwardhan, Vaishnavi Chandran Menon, Sadhu Kokila are Kuri Ranga, are the cast of this movie.

Red carpet looks

Indian celebs at the Cannes festival — desi to daring

Bollywood actress Sara Ali Khan made her Cannes red carpet debut and went full desi for her maiden outing. The actress wore a lehenga by Indian designer duo Abu-Sandeep as she posted her pictures against the blue Mediterranean Sea.

'Jannat 2' actress Esha Gupta also walked the prestigious red carpet as she looked sensational in a white gown with exaggerated floral detailing. Esha attended the film festival as part of the Indian government delegation. She chose Nicolas Jebran couture for her debut Cannes appearance.

Former Miss World and actress Manushi Chhillar recently walked the red carpet at the 76th Cannes Film Festival. For the occasion, she chose a white dress by Fovari.

Urvashi Rautela was seen wearing a pink Tulle gown paired with statement jewellery. Her gown was designed by Sima Couture and the necklace was by Cartier.

The numbers in the grey squares refer to the sums of the digits that you must fill into the empty spaces directly below or to the right of the grey square containing the number. For instance, in the given example, the 3 boxes horizontally next to 15 must contain 3 digits that add up to 15, whereas for 9, it is the 2 boxes placed vertically under it that must add up to 9. No zeros are used here, only the digits 1 through 9.

Note: A digit cannot appear more than once in any particular digit combination. For instance, in the example, we cannot have the combination of 4+7+4 for 15.

Rules

» Connect adjacent dots with vertical or horizontal lines, creating a single loop (Fig A). » Crossovers or branches are not allowed (As shown by dotted lines in Fig B). » Numbers in the puzzle indicate the number of lines that should surround it, while empty cells may be surrounded by any number of lines. » You can't draw lines around zeros. » Each puzzle has just one unique solution.

How to begin:

Example (Fig A) – Begin with the zero next to 3. Since no lines can be drawn around zero, mark crosses around it, as shown. Now there is a cross in one space around 3. So we know the three lines of 3 can only be drawn in the remaining three spaces. Next, these lines can only be extended in one direction each. Continue, using the same logic.

Hints: Keep eliminating possibilities by marking crosses in spaces between dots where a line isn't possible, i.e., if you have already completed required lines or where a line extension may create a branch or cause a dead-end (Fig B)
